& TAHITIAN PEARLS

for your individual selection

PRIMA PEARLS

Prima Pearls focuses on the supply of some of the most beautiful pearls in the world for individual jewellery pieces. Through our website you can access the full range of loose pearls and strands. We can further source and select pearls required to create individual strands and jewellery according to your specific request.

Our jewellery collection is designed to help you with ideas for your personal selection. For example, you may see a particular piece which would better suit you set in white gold, rather than yellow gold, perhaps with a smaller or different shape pearl. We can help with your selection for an individually designed piece.

Costs will vary depending on lustre, size, shape, colour and complexion. The following gives some guidelines on the prices of our jewellery

Australian South Sea Pearls

Strands from $4,000

Bracelets from $2,000

Pendants from $1,500

Tahitian Pearls

Strands from $3,000

Bracelets from $1,500

Pendants from $1,000

Bearing in mind that each pearl is individual, a strand or bracelet is created with a selection of complementing pearls graded in size – by increasing or decreasing the size by only 1mm for a number of pearls within the strand, the price can be adjusted quite considerably. As such, it is often possible for us to produce beautiful strands for our customers, at a price they are comfortable with.

Australian South Sea Pearls

Our South Sea Pearls are sourced from the world-renowned pristine waters off the north-western coast of Australia, where the clean oceanic conditions and strict regulatory structures, ensure that only the best quality of pearl is produced. The Australian South Sea Pearls are created by the South Sea (pinctada maxima) Oyster, which has two varieties, the silver lipped and the gold lipped. The silver lipped produces the white pearl with shades ranging from silver to pink and the gold lipped produces the golden pearl in its varying hues. The South Sea Oyster is the most highly valued of the pearl producing species and produces the most sought after pearls.

Tahitian Pearls

The Tahitian Pearls are produced by the black lipped (pinctada margaritifera) Oyster and are cultivated in French Polynesia. Pearls produced range in colour from various shades of grey, silver, charcoal, blues, coppers and greens. The natural beauty of these pearls is the result of the quality of oyster and farming techniques. None of our pearls are dyed and the diverse range of colours is produced naturally by the oyster.

Akoya Pearls

The Akoya Pearl is produced by the Akoya Oyster (pinctada fucata martensii), while traditionally cultivated in Japan is now increasingly produced in China. Renowned for their lustre the Akoya is considered as the classic pearl. The Akoya is the smallest oceanic pearl-producing oyster and as such the pearls are generally smaller in size. Our focus is on supplying the higher quality Akoya which traditionally produces a very classic and uniformed strand.
